El Guincho, Rosala and J Balvin have earned their way in a heavy rotation in each beach party playlist for years to come. It was only April, but FKA Twigs released the best ballad of the year with "Cellophane", the first single of her second studio album Magdalene. Smarter. COM is a beautiful trippy opera that begs you to explore your inner rhythms. Tyler, the Creator "What's Good?" Tyler, the Creator has a very clear message for his enemies on "What's Good?" bring it. We would have sworn Tool had a meeting. After comparing himself to a god, a vampire and a crocodile with an eye for Steve Irwin, we were speechless, which makes the soft outro plan even more disturbing. James Blake "Assume Form" The title track of Blake's fourth studio album is a delicate commitment to avoid succumbing to depression. Foto Courtesy: Lisa Lake/Roc Nation/Getty Images A A A Sexy Black Timberlake A è il primo singolo dei Black Moses, il suo ultimo EP. "What's Good?" is his most aggressive and dizzying diss track that quickly jumps from buzzing rhythms to synthesized and smooth R&B. Carrying the emotional weight of the relationship as it fights against the audience, the far from positive approval of their love seems to have bittered what it could have been. It's almost bizarre to remember how many other witty artists like Drake, Madonna and The Raconteurs have released albums this year. In the last year, the musician has publicly acknowledged that he sought treatment for having suicidal thoughts. His latest album Igor was a creative mix of rap and R&B that took first place in the Billboard Top 200 Albums chart. El Guincho has made incredible dance music since the Alegranza of 2007, so it's even more exciting to see these three conquer the world after all this time. Of all his exits for Great to the radio, no song song The dance floor moves like "Time", his collaboration with Missy Elliott. After consistently releasing songs with syrupy voice and hip-house beat for two years, Sexy Black Timberlake is her best tease for what's yet to come. Photo Courtesy: Frank Hoensch/Redferns/Getty Images 2019 was one of the record books. The pop star took a big dip in 2019 with the release of her debut album Cuz I Love You. Photo Courtesy: Dennis Manuel/AFROPUNK/Getty Images The song seems to be about his relationship with the beating heart of Twilight Robert Pattinson. Like the cover of his 2019 album Norman F4cAA Rockwell!, "The Greatest" reaches out to watch the end of the world together. Or when L.A. wasn't literally on fire. Photo Courtesy: Lizzo/YouTube Give Lizzo the chance to spit out playful lines for her next conquest, but if they haven't been sold yet, she finally offers a flute solo to close the deal. But all we can remember about the last few months is that we couldn't get away from Old Town Road and Lizzo is responsible for everything now. Courtesy: Daniel Knighton/Getty Images It asks for simpler times, like the Laurel Canyon of the 1970s, when it was frequented by bands like The Doors and The Mamas and The Papas. And we're real if an elevator released music and said Missy Elliott was there, we'd be in that elevator all day. Mike Hadreas sings several songs about his relationship with his body. It's also a cry to escape a time when an entire generation wasn't completely burned. Before another year ends, let's look back at the best music of 2019. Channel Tres - Sexy Black Timberlake - Channel Tres is rapidly evolving into one of the most prolific names in dance music. New acts such as King Princess, Billie Eilish and Lil Nas X hit the radio waves and the cultural zeitgeist. A è A è -eye in the A" wall, his collaboration with Seattle choreographer Kate Wallich, sees Hadreas giving to his body's desire to move. While fans await his debut album, early adopters can still tour it in smaller venues before he starts selling the stadiums. It's heavy on the melodrama, and you can feel its guttural pain with every growing, but there's a bit of irony wrapped in the song. Photo Courtesy: Kieran Frost / Redferns / Getty Images The nine-minute psychedelic race takes him out of the confines of his body and takes all of us with him on a cosmic dance floor far away. A è A è "Form A è A è" A è a beautiful moment of revolutionary string piano for Blake and a delicate reminder for all of us to live longer in the moment. Banas del Rey A è A è A è A è -" The largest! " A è A è The largest A è A è " as the last item to be packed in the car before going to sunset. And the vampire weekend was back together. Photo courtesy: Randy Holmes / ABC / Getty Images It was a powerful confession from the musician who wanted to use his story to help remove the stigma surrounding mental illness. Photo courtesy: Kevin Winter / Getty Images You just have to check the views from 1.1 billion videos on YouTube to recognize the following from these three, thanks to their massive hit. Trust us on this A è A è "Channel Tres" Social Sodsualist and Barry-White-on-Xanax Vocals please many dance tracks in 2020. Sorry, Lil Nas X, but the song of the summer wasn't Your table-topping A è A è Old Town Road. A è A è Did not give us a summer jam A è A è 90s Reggaeton Throwback Vibes at an altitude of 30,000 feet Enough "With Altura." A è We are in a post -A è A è Despacit A è World, Latin and Spanish music has finally found very much fanbase. In 2017 No Shape, she explored beautifully her gender confusion and the challenges of living with Crohn's disease. Hell, she would've been content to go back to the late 2000s rock renaissance in New York. But we wouldn't worry that FKA Twigs will soon find something else to put in a plastic wrap. Lizzo with Missy Elliott "Time" Lizzo had an explosive year to say the least. Together with producer Jack Antonoff, Lana Del Rey created the perfect song for the existential crisis we all had in 2019.
