model, who was the winner of the Miss World 2017 pageant. [4] She represented her state of Haryana at the Femina Miss India 2017 pageant, which she won, and went on to become the sixth representative from India to be crowned Miss World. She made her acting debut with the role of Sanyogita in the historical drama Samrat Prithviraj (2022) Early life and education Chhillar was born on 14 May 1997[4] in Rohtak into a Haryanvi family,[5] although her ancestral home is in Bamnoli village of Jhajjar district.[6][7] Her father, Dr. Mitra Basu Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chhillar, is a physician and scientist at Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), while her mother, Dr. Neelam Chairman (DRDO), while her mother (DRDO), wh medical doctor and departmental head of neurochemistry at the Institute of Human Behaviour and Allied Sciences.[8][9] Chhillar studied at St. Thomas' School, New Delhi and was the all India CBSE topper in English subject in class 12, and scored 96 percent in her boards.[10] She cleared the All India Pre Medical Test (now, NEET) in her first attempt.[11] She was pursuing a medical degree (MBBS) at the Bhagat Phool Singh Medical College in Sonipat.[12] She is a trained Kuchipudi dancer, and had acquired her training under Raja and Radha Reddy.[15] Pageantry Femina Miss India Main article Femina Miss India 2017 Chhillar ventured into pageantry with Fashion Big Bazaar sponsored Campus Princess 2016, where she was crowned as one of the finalists from All India Institute of Medical Sciences in December 2016. It was conducted by the Miss India Organization.[16] Thereafter, she went on to win the title of Femina Miss India Haryana in April 2017. Chhillar represented the state of Haryana in the annual Femina Miss India contest.[17] During the competition, Chhillar was crowned Miss Photogenic.[18] Chhillar, as a top 15 semi-finalist was asked by Karan Johar: "The government is considering to ban surrogacy in India. What is your opinion regarding this?" I feel everyone in the world should have a right to be a parent. So, instead of banning surrogacy in India, the government should focus on preventing it's exploitation. [19] During the final question and answer round of Femina Miss India 2017, the top 5 delegates were asked the same question - "You have spent 30 days with 30 fellow contestants at Femina Miss India. What lesson will you take back with you?", to which Chhillar responded: These days that I have spent with my fellow contestants has been the most dynamic period of my life. The only thing that was certain during the whole experience was uncertainty. The one belief that I would take back with me is that, yes...I can change the world. When I entered Miss India, there was only passion. However, through this journey, I acquired a vision in life. That vision and the belief that I can change the world, is something I'm going to take back with me.[20][21] She later went on to win the contest's main title Femina Miss India World 2017, in the finale event venued in Yash Raj Film Studio, on 25 June 2017.

she became a finalist in the Top Model, People's Choice, and Multimedia competitions, and was the winner of the Beauty with a Purpose winner at Miss World and the first woman to win Miss World and Beauty with a Purpose jointly. Chhillar's Beauty with a Purpose project was titled Project Shakti. The campaign's goal is to spread awareness about menstrual hygiene.[26] She visited about 20 villages for the project and treated over 5,000 women.[27] During the final question and answer round, Chhillar was asked - "Which profession should receive the highest salary in the world?" Responding to the same, she answered: Since I am very close to my mother, I think that a mother deserves the highest respect. When you talk about salary, I don't think it's just about cash, but the love and respect that you give to someone. My mother has been the biggest inspiration in my life. All mothers, they just sacrifice so much for their kids. So, I believe the profession which deserves the highest salary, respect and love should be of a mother. [28][29][30] On 18 November 2017, Chhillar was crowned Miss World 2017 by outgoing titleholder Miss World 2016, Stephanie Del Valle from Puerto Rico in the finals in Sanya, China. She became the sixth Indian woman to win the crown and the first since Priyanka Chopra, Miss World 2000.[31][32] Reign as Miss World This section may contain an excessive amount of intricate detail that may interest only a particular audience. Menstrual Hygiene Day.[124][125] Supporting the Fit India Campaign, Chhillar along with the Vice President of India, Venkaiah Naidu waved the flag at the starting line to initiate the race, as thousands of cyclists made it to the streets of Delhi celebrating the World Bicycle Day.[126][127] She is a strong advocate for vegetarianism and has expressed her views on the subject on various platforms.[128][129] Chhillar was appointed as the ambassador for Government of Haryana's campaign to curb Anemia, which was instituted since almost 61 per cent of the women in the state were effected from the disease.[130] She expanded the scope of her Beauty with a Purpose campaign, Project Shakti and initiated awareness programme among rural women for HIV/AIDS in India.[131] On initiatives of Project Shakti, because I feel women of our country are at risk due to lack of awareness programs. We work with hundreds of women across India and we are looking to educate them about AIDS awareness so that they can convey this message in their respective communities. It is absolutely essential for our country to fight HIV/AIDS and I am looking forward to doing my bit for the cause.[133] In a video released by UNICEF India, she urged people to stay at home and practice social distancing.[134][135] Chhillar also urged state governments in India to distribute sanitary pads, along with daily ration to the female migrant labourers' crisis in India, which arose as a result of the strict lockdown imposed to contain the spread of SARS CoV-2.[136] In 2021, the United Nations Women affiliated with Chhillar in order to raise awareness regarding gender-based violence.[137][138] She supports an initiative titled 'Orange the World', and works towards curbing online harassment of women among other forms of harassment, and spreading more awareness pertaining to this issue.[139][140][141] In March 2021, Chhillar along with Dipika Pallikal and Nikhat Zareen, became part of a campaign launched by Adidas called Make A Move, with the vision to encourage and motivate women to overcome psychological and social barriers.[citation needed] In the media Subsequent to her win at Miss World, Chhillar received widespread recognition and attention from the media.[142][143][144] Chhillar was recognised for her achiements by CNN-IBN, and she was awarded at the 2017 Indian of the Year awards, by the organization.[145] She was voted as the Most Desirable Woman of India in the 2018 internet survey conducted by Times of India.[146] In 2019, she was named as the 'Sexiest Vegetarian Personality' in India, by PETA.[147] She reacted to the award by expressing, "Being a vegetarian has actually been a way of life for me. My parents were vegetarians and while they gave me a choice, I never felt like I was missing on something. I've always been a vegetarian and have never felt like I needed to change that."[148] In the annual award show organized by Lokmat newspaper, she was named as the most promising Fresh Face in the industry.[149] Filmography Key Denotes films that have not yet been released Films Year Title Role Notes Ref(s) 2022 Samrat Prithvira
