Although pricey, West is completely worth the splurge for special occasions or gastronomical indulgence of the highest order. Previously, these upstairs rooms hosted exclusive parties and performances by music legends like Louis Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald, Sammy Davis Jr. and Frank Sinatra. 01 of 10 In the heart of Vancouver's Entertainment District on Granville Street, the Orpheum has been a musical and theater venue since the 1920s. The best restaurants in Vancouver include some of the best, most highly-acclaimed fine dining in the world. On a rainy night in Vancouver, of which there are many, the city's theaters are a popular place to enjoy a show. During its 27 years of operation, the 250-seat stage helped launch the careers of Canadian talents such as Michael J. In a city with sushi restaurants on every corner, Tojo's distinguishes itself with truly outstanding cuisine; it's well worth its high price tag. Continue to 5 of 6 below. In 2008, the heritage building was saved from demolition and it was restored and reopened in 2013 with a performance of East Van Panto (now a local tradition every Christmas time). Now the new studio theater hosts low-key, intimate shows performed by Seven Tyrants Theatre Company — a Vancouver-based indie theater company that had been performing for a decade before opening the new space. Fox. Granville Island Stage opened in 1979, with the other two opening in 1998 and 2015, showcasing everything from comedy plays to Broadway musicals, classic London theatre, and acclaimed productions from around the world. 02 of 10 Host to most of the city's 'big name' shows, Queen Elizabeth Theatre often showcases Broadway shows, opera, ballet, and musical performances, as well as a locally curated art gallery exhibiting works by emerging artists. Founded in 1958 as a private club for musicians, actors, and artists, the first Arts Club Theatre opened in 1964 in a converted gospel hall at Seymour Street and Davie. 06 of 06 Image Courtesy of CinCin Located in the heart of Robson Street's shopping district, CinCin is one of the best Italian restaurants in Vancouver. 04 of 06 Owned by world-renowned chef Hidekazu Tojo—who claims to have invented the California Roll—Tojo's is arguably the most famous Vancouver sushi restaurant. It's a favourite among celebrities and locals alike for its amazing omakase dinners. Be sure to meet owner and celebrity chef Vikram Vij, universally known as "Vik," on your visit; he's often on hand to converse with patrons and to treat everyone like an honoured guest. Their specialty is their traditional—and perfectly cooked—mussels. Continue to 9 of 10 below. 04 of 10 Since 1973, The Culch (originally called the Vancouver East Cultural Centre), has been a hub for innovative theater and diverse arts events in Vancouver. The patient's primary care provider on record will be notified of the referral as well. A referral letter will be sent to the patient to advise them that follow-up is needed and to notify them which clinic they have been referred to. The regal-sounding theater is named for its most famous patron, Queen Elizabeth II, who attended a concert here in July 1959 when the theater first opened. It is now run by The Culch and it showcases artists and community groups that have rented the space. 05 of 06 Chamber's reputation for amazing food is well earned; you won't find better fine Belgian cuisine in the city. 10 of 10 Located in a heritage fire station that was built in 1906, the Firehall Arts Centre is known for its innovative, eclectic and often politically-charged plays, as well as cutting-edge dance performances and visual arts exhibitions. The arts center also showcases performances from other performing arts organizations, as well as local and national artists. 03 of 10 Cozy yet classy, the Vancouver Playhouse's intimate theater makes it a favorite for dance, film and theater performances that are acoustically driven performances such as chamber music and spoken theatre. Just like Brussels, but better. 03 of 06 Vij's deserves its reputation as one of the best restaurants in Vancouver for its world-class Indian-fusion fare The menu varies seasonally, but the flavours are always unique, perfectly balanced, and surprisingly nuanced. Housed in what was once an abandoned church, the space was renovated in 2008 to create a state-of-the-art theatre and the new Vancity Culture Lab, but the Historic Theatre balcony still remains. Vancouver might not be as well known for its cultural scene as Toronto and Montreal but the smaller city still has its fair share of excellent theaters, from ornate historical spaces to cozy and quirky stages. With its warm, inviting Tuscan interior and long, sweeping modern bar (ideal for trying one of CinCin's amazing cocktails), CinCin offers a complete fine-dining experience: delicious, innovative Italian cuisine, excellent service, and the perfect venue for a night out, a romantic dinner, or a family celebration. 06 of 10 Next door to the historic Orpheum, the appropriately named Annex is the sassy little sister of the ornate finery next door and is home to a cabaret-style venue, complete with red curtains and two floors of performance space. Popular performers include international dance acts via DanceHouse; Friends of Chamber Music, one of the city's longest-running performing arts organizations; and the Vancouver Recital Society, which presents award-winning artists alongside emerging talent. 01 of 06 Image Courtesy of Tourism Vancouver Winner of Vancouver Magazine's Restaurant of the Year award, West earns its place at the top of this list of best restaurants in Vancouver for its superb service, unique contemporary regional cuisine and to-die-for house-made cocktails. It opened in 1927 and the interior still showcases sweeping staircases, antique decor, and a domed auditorium that features an ornate ceiling mural and giant crystal chandelier. 07 of 10 Arts Club Theatre Company Address BMO Theatre Centre, 162 W 1st Ave, Vancouver, BC V5Y 0H6, Canada Phone +1 604-687-1644 Western Canada's largest theatre company has three venues: the 650-seat Stanley Industrial Alliance Stage, 440-seat Granville Island Stage, and 250-seat Goldcorp Stage at the BMO Theatre Centre. Inside, the decor is classic and contemporary with sweeping staircases and dramatic chandeliers combined with deep crimson seating and an airy auditorium. December 16, 2020 Starting December 7th, BC Cancer is implementing a facilitated referral process for cervix screening participants who have pap test results recommending colposcopy follow-up. After the Cervix Screening Program receives a cervix screening result that recommends colposcopy follow-up, a referral will be sent to a colposcopy clinic on the same or next business day. In the summer the al fresco Bard on the Beach comes to Kitsilano for a season of Shakespeare plays but if you're visiting any other time of year, here are 10 of the best theaters in Vancouver, BC. The original church was built in 1909 and it was used as a place of worship until the late 1960s when the city took it over - in 1973 it became the Vancouver East Cultural Centre and soon earned its nickname, The Culch. 08 of 10 Opened in 2018, this newly renovated performance venue is located above the historic Penthouse Nightclub. Continue to 5 of 10 below. Performances range from avant-garde, artist-driven shows to big-name Broadway musicals and classic theatrical productions. 05 of 10 Thought to be one of Vancouver's oldest standing performance venues, the York Theatre was built in 1913 and opened as the Alcazar Theatre. Over the years it was known as the Palace, Little Theatre, York Theatre, and even Raja Theatre when it operated as a Bollywood film cinema. 09 of 10 Since 1982, Gateway Theatre has been hosting theater and dance performances, funded by the City of Richmond to create a cultural space for Vancouver's neighboring city. Featuring an abundant selection of fresh, West Coast fare, Ocean Wise sustainable fish, oysters, sushi and sashimi, there is nothing here that isn't five-star amazing. Colposcopy clinic staff will arrange an appointment for the patient. Home to the internationally renowned Vancouver Symphony Orchestra – the largest performing arts organization in Western Canada – the Orpheum also hosts city choirs and performing artists from around the world. 02 of 06 Image Courtesy of Tourism Vancouver Acclaimed as the best seafood restaurant in Vancouver—no little feat, considering the wealth of world-class seafood available here—Blue Water Cafe is a favourite among locals, tourists and celebrities alike. The modern theater is comprised of a 522-seat Main Stage and an 89-seat studio where more avant-garde plays are performed. Showcasing local, national, and international performances in contemporary dance, music, theatre, and visual arts, The Culch showcases cutting-edge performances from all over the globe. After the colposcopy, the result will be sent to the primary care provider For patients who have normal pap test results, BC Cancer will recall patients directly with mailed reminder letters when they are due for re-screening. Skip to main content Celebrated chefs, fabulous wines, delectable cuisine. Head here for eclectic shows from music festivals to modern dance theatre.
